With the bill, the Administrator is required to have a bachelor's degree or higher degree from a college or university or have at least five years' experience in property management or building management. Additionally, the Administrator is required to have at least four years' administrative experience in planning design, or construction of major construction projects.

Currently, the Administrator is required to have a bachelor's degree and four years' administrative experience. This bill provides the Administrator may have at least five years' experience in property or building management instead of a college degree.
