1. Background

The Nebraska Reduced Cigarette Ignition Propensity (RCIP) Act was passed in May 2009, with an operative date of January 1, 2010. As a part of this Act the State Fire Marshal Agency was charged with generating and submitting a report every three years detailing the effectiveness of the Act. This is the first of the required reports.

This Act, most commonly referred to as the Safe Cigarette Act, was a response to a nationwide shift toward a new type of cigarette which was being manufactured. This shift was a result of research and studies conducted to try and reduce the number of and damage caused by fires attributable to cigarettes. A collaboration of many safety groups, including the Nation Fire Protection Association (NFPA), had joined with some of the Nation's largest cigarette manufacturers to develop a cigarette that was capable of self-extinguishment, thus resulting in fewer fires and greater public safety. The first efforts went toward developing federal legislation, but it was soon determined that faster and more tailored results could be achieved through legislation at the State level. In June of 2004 New York became the first state to mandate reduced ignition propensity cigarettes.

The rationale for producing and requiring "safe" cigarettes is easy to understand. National Fire Data shows that cigarette fires cause hundreds of millions of dollars in damage each year, as well as incalculable amounts of trauma and stress. According to information gathered and published by the NFPA, "One-quarter of victims of smoking-material fire fatalities are not the smokers whose cigarettes started the fire: 34 percent are children of the smokers; 25 percent are neighbors or friends; 14 percent are spouses or partners; and 13 percent are parents."<sup>1</sup> While education about the dangerousness of smoking related fires has been a national campaign for many years, it was decided that if changes could be employed to improve the design of cigarettes this would be a major improvement in reducing the number of fires. According to information published on the NFPA website, "A fire-safe cigarette has a reduced propensity to burn when left unattended. The most common fire-safe technology used by cigarette manufacturers is to wrap cigarettes with two or three thin bands of less-porous paper that act as 'speed bumps' to slow down a burning cigarette. If a fire-safe cigarette is left unattended, the burning tobacco will reach one of these speed bumps and self-extinguish."<sup>2</sup>

Once it was determined how the cigarettes could be manufactured to aide in self-extinguishment the next step in the process was to establish the standards that the new cigarettes would need to meet. This was accomplished by devising a system to test the effectiveness of the new design model. "Fire-safe cigarettes meet an established cigarette fire safety performance standard, based on ASTM E2187, Standard Test Method for Measuring the Ignition Strength of Cigarettes.”<sup>1</sup> Once this testing standard was recognized the States began passing legislation to implement programs within each state that would require tobacco companies to sell fire-safe cigarettes.

The New York Legislation became a model utilized in many states, including Nebraska. In general the legislation requires cigarette manufactures to register the brand families and brand styles that will be sold within each state. The manufacturer must provide information regarding the cigarettes such as length, type, circumference, and other information as required in the statutes. Additionally, each request for certification must be accompanied by testing results stating the cigarettes meet the established laboratory testing standard. All information is reviewed and if correct the required fee is charged and a certification is issued by the State.

However, in Nebraska there were some changes from the model legislation. For example, in Nebraska the companies pay to register their products by brand family and not brand style (all states require both brand family and brand style information; in most other states, registration fees are calculated by number of styles registered, not by number of brand families. Nebraska’s fee structure results in large companies being able to register a greater number of styles for the same fee that a small company pays to register two or three styles. Additionally, examples of the packaging are not required to be submitted. And finally, instead of renewing the certifications every three years, as is done in the other states, in Nebraska the companies re-register and pay the certification fee every four years.

2. Federal Law Tangential to the Program

The Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, which can be found at <http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/PLAW-111publ31/html/PLAW-111publ31.htm> was signed into law on June 22, 2009 by President Barack Obama. This Act provided that the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) would have the power to regulate certain aspects of the tobacco industry. One of the major reasons for these new requirements was to limit the advertising produced to target children. Parts of these regulations included the need for new warnings and labels on tobacco products and their packaging. Another part of the regulations disallowed the use of terms such as “light” or “ultra-light” in packaging, as these terms might convey a false sense of a lower health risk when using those products. As a result of this law tobacco companies changed the packaging to remove the potentially misleading words and replaced them with various color types. For example, instead of light or ultra-light colors such as blue or light blue are used.

These changes affected Nebraska’s Safe Cigarette Program in that it required all the companies to re-register their brand families because of the name changes. All new documentation had to be provided and new certificates issued showing the name changes.

69-503. Cigarettes; testing; requirements; performance standard; manufacturer; duties; civil penalty; State Fire Marshal; powers and duties.

(1) Except as provided in subsection (7) of this section, no cigarettes may be sold or offered for sale in this state or offered for sale or sold to persons located in this state unless the cigarettes have been tested in accordance with the following test method and meet the performance standard specified in this section, a written certification has been filed by the manufacturer with the State Fire Marshal in accordance with section 69-504, and the cigarettes have been marked in accordance with section 69-505. Testing shall be as follows:

(a) Testing of cigarettes shall be conducted in accordance with the American Society of Testing and Materials Standard E2187-04, Standard Test Method for Measuring the Ignition Strength of Cigarettes;

(b) Testing shall be conducted on ten layers of filter paper;

(c) No more than twenty-five percent of the cigarettes tested in a test trial in accordance with this subsection shall exhibit full-length burns. Forty replicate tests shall comprise a complete test trial for each cigarette tested;

(d) The performance standard required by this subsection shall only be applied to a complete test trial;

(e) Written certifications shall be based upon testing conducted by a laboratory that has been accredited pursuant to standard ISO/IEC 17025 of the International Organization for Standardization or other comparable accreditation standard required by the State Fire Marshal;

(f) Laboratories conducting testing in accordance with this subsection shall implement a quality control and quality assurance program that includes a procedure that will determine the repeatability of the testing results. The repeatability value shall be no greater than 0.19;

(g) This subsection does not require additional testing if cigarettes are tested consistent with the Reduced Cigarette Ignition Propensity Act for any other purpose; and

(h) Testing performed or sponsored by the State Fire Marshal to determine a cigarette's compliance with the performance standard required by this section shall be conducted in accordance with this subsection.

(2) Each cigarette listed in a certification submitted pursuant to section 69-504 that uses lowered permeability bands in the cigarette paper to achieve compliance with the performance standard set forth in this section shall have at least two nominally identical bands on the paper surrounding the tobacco column. At least one complete band shall be located at least fifteen millimeters from the lighting end of the cigarette. For cigarettes on which the bands are positioned by design, there shall be at least two bands fully located at least fifteen millimeters from the lighting end and ten millimeters from the filter end of the tobacco column, or ten millimeters from the labeled end of the tobacco column for nonfiltered cigarettes.

(3) A manufacturer of a cigarette that the State Fire Marshal determines cannot be tested in accordance with the test method prescribed in subdivision (1)(a) of this section shall propose a test method and performance standard for the cigarette to the State Fire Marshal. If the State Fire Marshal determines that another state has enacted reduced cigarette ignition propensity standards that include a test method and performance standard that are the same as those contained in the Reduced Cigarette Ignition Propensity Act and the State Fire Marshal finds that the officials responsible for implementing those requirements have approved the proposed alternative test method and performance standard for a particular cigarette proposed by a manufacturer as meeting the fire safety standards of that state's law or regulation under a legal provision comparable to this section, then the State Fire Marshal shall authorize that manufacturer to employ the alternative test method and performance standard to certify that cigarette for sale in this state, unless the State Fire Marshal demonstrates a reasonable basis why the alternative test should not be accepted under the act. All other applicable requirements of this section shall apply to the manufacturer.

(4) Each manufacturer shall maintain copies of the reports of all tests conducted on all cigarettes offered for sale for a period of three years and shall make copies of these reports available to the State Fire Marshal and the Attorney General upon written request. Any manufacturer who fails to make copies of these reports available within sixty days after receiving a written request shall be subject to a civil penalty not to exceed ten thousand dollars for each day after the sixtieth day that the manufacturer does not make such copies available.

(5) The State Fire Marshal may adopt a subsequent American Society of Testing and Materials Standard Test Method for Measuring the Ignition Strength of Cigarettes upon a finding that such subsequent method does not result in a change in the percentage of full-length burns exhibited by any tested cigarette when compared to the percentage of full-length burns the same cigarette would exhibit when tested in accordance with the American Society of Testing and Materials Standard E2187-04 and the performance standard in subdivision (1)(c) of this section.

(6) The State Fire Marshal shall review the effectiveness of this section and report every three years to the Legislature the State Fire Marshal's findings and, if appropriate, recommendations for legislation to improve the effectiveness of this section. The report and legislative recommendations shall be submitted electronically no later than November 15 each three-year period.

(7) The requirements of subsection (1) of this section shall not prohibit wholesale or retail dealers from selling their existing inventory of cigarettes on or after January 1, 2010, if the wholesale or retail dealer can establish that state tax stamps were affixed to the cigarettes prior to such date and if the wholesale or retail dealer can establish that the inventory was purchased prior to such date in comparable quantity to the inventory purchased during the same period of the prior year.

(8) The Reduced Cigarette Ignition Propensity Act shall be implemented in accordance with the implementation and substance of the New York Fire Safety Standards for Cigarettes as such standards existed on January 1, 2009.

Any money in the fund available for investment shall be invested by the state investment officer pursuant to the Nebraska Capital Expansion Act and the Nebraska State Funds Investment Act.

(7) If a manufacturer has certified a cigarette pursuant to this section and thereafter makes any change to such cigarette that is likely to alter its compliance with the reduced cigarette ignition propensity standards required by the Reduced Cigarette Ignition Propensity Act, such cigarette shall not be sold or offered for sale in this state until the manufacturer retests the cigarette in accordance with the testing standards set forth in section 69-503 and maintains records of that retesting as required by section 69-503. Any altered cigarette which does not meet the performance standard set forth in section 69-503 shall not be sold in this state.

4. Program Evaluation and Statistical Data

The Agency was charged with implementing the Safe Cigarette Program and then submitting a legislative report every three years. This is the first report to be submitted as the first three year period has been completed. In accordance with the statutory requirements the State Fire Marshal (SFM) Agency has implemented the Safe Cigarette Program in Nebraska. In order to evaluate program effectiveness the Agency has collected a variety of data dealing with both the certification process and the fires which have occurred and been linked to smoking material. The information concerning fires was gathered from the investigations conducted by our internal staff, our delegated authority staff, and reports submitted by Nebraska Fire Departments through the Nebraska Fire Incident Reporting System (NeFIRS). Informational graphs, as well as excel spreadsheets, have been included in this section to illustrate the information gathered. A brief description of each figure is included to aid in understand the information presented.

Figure One

This graph shows the total number of certifications that have been issued for brand families in Nebraska. The chart is broken down to show the number of families and styles that were registered each year. Per the statutory requirements there is a thousand dollar fee charged for each brand family registered. The program officially started on January 1, 2010 but the requirements stated the companies had to be registered on that day so the companies had to send in the information necessary for registration at the end of 2009 to ensure compliance with the Act on January 1, 2010.

Registration fee $1,000.00 per family

Figure Two

This graph shows the total number of fires that were reported in Nebraska for the years 2007-October 31, 2012. This total is further broken down to show the number of those fires which had a listed cause as smoking materials. Information is also provided to show the number of fatalities and injuries associated with cigarette fires, as well as the amount of monetary loss associated with the cigarette fires. It should be noted that there is no information regarding the type of cigarette that caused the fire (fire safe cigarette or not) because this information is not gathered in the statewide reporting system.

Figure Three

This graph shows the total number of fires that were reported in by Delegated Authority Fire Departments for the years 2007-October 31, 2012. This total is further broken down to show the number of those fires which had a listed cause as smoking materials. Information is also provided to show the number of fatalities and injuries associated with cigarette fires, as well as the amount of monetary loss associated with the cigarette fires. There is also information for the years 2010-2012 which illustrates the number of cigarette fires where the cause was further narrowed by trying to determine if the cigarette was considered to be fire safe.

The SFM has granted Delegated Authority Status to the cities of: Omaha, Bellevue, Lincoln, Norfolk, Grand Island, North Platte, and Scottsbluff. This means that within delegated authority jurisdictions, fire investigations are conducted by staff of those fire departments rather than the SFM.

This is an Excel Spreadsheet which provides more detailed information regarding the fires investigated by SFM deputies. Each case number is listed, as well as some of the information gathered by the deputy. There is also a total number of cigarette fires listed for each year. If more information is desired for a specific case, it can be easily accessed by contacting the Agency and providing the listed case number.

This information is further broken down to show where the investigations allowed the deputies to determine whether or not the fires were caused by fire safe cigarettes. This information is only available for the years 2010-2012 as fire safe cigarettes were not available prior to those dates. The total fires for each of the previous three years are listed only for total fire number comparisons.

This is an Excel Spreadsheet, included as an appendix at the end of this report, lists all the cigarettes, by brand families and brand styles, which have been registered in Nebraska since the inception of the Act. It displays the information provided by the company as well as showing the places where the companies had to re-register due to the change in Federal law regarding words such as “light” or “ultra-light.”

Conclusions

An examination of the program’s implementation and functionality during the first three years has revealed areas of efficacy and areas needing improvement. The Agency developed a section of our website to deliver information to interested parties. The submittal process was streamlined by utilizing electronic means for both submittal and storage. There have not been any reported violations of the selling requirements. In the few instances where non FSC products were located in stores it was determined that the products had Nebraska Tax stamps issued prior to January 1, 2010 so were still eligible to be sold. This information would point to the program being effective.

However, when trying to analyze the program’s effectiveness in terms of a reduction in the number and damage caused by cigarette fires it is very hard to make firm determinations as there is not good data from the years prior to the implementation of the Act to use as a base line. Prior to the Act there was no need to gather detailed information about the types of cigarettes in a fire. Also, there was no registration requirements for manufacturers to follow so it is unknown if compliance has increased or decreased. When examining just the number of fires it does appear that there was a small increase in the total number of fires and fires caused by cigarettes in 2011, a year after the program was enacted. However, there could be a number of reasons for this so it is hard to point to program effectiveness or the lack thereof as a definite cause of this increase. It should be noted that there may have been an adjustment period required for people to understand exactly how the fire safe cigarettes work. When a cigarette style is tested for compliance, there is an only a requirement that 75% of the tested cigarettes self-extinguish. Thus, the term “fire safe” is a misnomer, as the cigarettes can still cause fires. This commonly used term may have given people the false impression that these cigarettes would always self-extinguish so the disposal of them may have been somewhat careless.

The Agency was also charged with determining any legislative changes that may be needed to aide in the administration of the program. In preparing this report and monitoring the program for the first three years a few items that need to be changed have become apparent. As can be seen in each of the charts, information for the third year of the program has a stop date of October 31, 2012. This date was chosen to try and give the Agency time to compile the statistical data. However, even with this deadline much of the data needed for fires that occurred prior to this date was not available until much later. For example, the total number of fires in Nebraska for 2012 appears to have dropped by approximately 2000 fires. The number of reported fires for the year will increase after the end of the year when many departments submit their data for the year. Based on this delay the date for the report as listed in Neb. Rev. Stat. §69-503 (6) should be changed from November 15 to February 15 of the year directly after the three year reporting period. Additionally, Nebraska deviated from the model legislation in using a requirement that the companies only have to register every four years, instead of every three years. This discrepancy has caused issues in a number of ways. First of all the program was designed to be self-sufficient in that the registration fees would pay for the program administration and staffing. However, extending the deadline for recertification to four years has left a gap in available funding. Additionally, the certification requirements in other states are three years so it is confusing to the industry members that a different cycle is used in Nebraska. The Agency has already been contacted by industry members requesting a three year cycle be utilized. As such the Agency recommends that Neb. Rev. Stat. §69-504 (4) be changed to state (4) Each cigarette certified under this section shall be recertified every three years.

If the recommended legislative changes are implemented, the overall program efficacy should continue to increase. The program will need to be re-evaluated at the end of the next three-year reporting cycle. Because there will be a previous three-year period during which detailed fire data was collected, a more detailed analysis of program effectiveness in relation to a reduction in cigarette fires will be possible.
