LB 624 would allow law enforcement agencies to charge up to $15 for a copy of an accident report prepared by a peace officer.

For those law enforcement agencies that already charge a fee of up to $15 for these accident reports the passage of LB 624 will not have a fiscal impact. If the bill prompts a law enforcement agency to start charging a fee for these accident reports they will realize additional revenue commensurate with the fee that they set and the number of copies made.

A fiscal note request was made to the Department of Roads and their response indicates they already charge $15 for a copy of these accident reports. It would appear the way the bill is drafted that it only applies to law enforcement agencies and departments and would have no fiscal impact on the Department of Roads.

Explanation of Estimate:

LB 624 provides for fees for copies of accident reports. The bill allows the law enforcement office or department to charge a fee of up to fifteen dollars for a copy of a report made by a peace officer of the office or department.

The Department of Roads currently charges fifteen dollars for a copy of the accident report. This fee is based on current costs for the agency to provide this service. This bill caps the fee at fifteen dollars and would not allow for any increases in future expenses to the agency, if warranted.

No fiscal impact to the Department is anticipated.
