BUSINESS INNOVATION ACT

The Nebraska Department of Economic Development actively engages with entrepreneurs across the state to foster innovative ideas for overall economic growth. The 2011 Business Innovation Act (BIA) authorized a series of grants and investment programs to assist in the development and commercialization of new technologies in Nebraska businesses. The BIA offers a suite of diverse programs that facilitate financial assistance for the development and commercialization of new products, companies competing for federal grants, and technical and training assistance for small businesses.

BIA investment programs encourage the development of economic partnerships within Nebraska's diverse business community. The Microenterprise Assistance Act promotes efforts to invest in small businesses with statewide economic development organizations. Prototype grant funding provides resources to companies focused on product development; in addition, the Academic Research and Development Program fosters new product development through collaborative efforts between companies and higher learning institutions. The Small Business Innovation Research/Small Business Technology Transfer Research (SBIR/STTR) program grants provide matching funding for businesses that are applying for, or have already received federal SBIR/STTR grants and plan on performing at least 51% of the project work in Nebraska. The state matching fund provides grants for reimbursement of project planning and work in Phases 0, 1 and 2. Nebraska's Seed Investment Program helps businesses commercialize new technologies.

BIA MICROENTERPRISE ASSISTANCE PROJECT

DED values its partnerships with economic organizations in Nebraska with a particular focus on small business growth, and actively works to connect entrepreneurs with financial resources. The Microenterprise Partnership Fund plays an essential role in providing investment opportunities to Nebraska's microenterprises, which employ fewer than five people. Diverse economic programs, such as the Center for Rural Affairs' Rural Enterprise Assistance Project, have allowed small businesses in Nebraska to qualify for funding from BIA's Microenterprise Assistance Program.

DED Microenterprise contracts funded in FYE '15 and '16 totaled $1,500,000. The Center for Rural Affairs and Nebraska Enterprise Fund received $840,000 and $160,000 respectively for Technical Assistance, which contributes to an organization's overall operations and potential expansion efforts. In addition, The Nebraska Enterprise Fund and Rural Investment Corp. received a total of $500,000 in lending assistance. Awarded organizations serve as advocates for Nebraskans in agriculture, business assistance and soil and water conservation in Nebraska.

These organizations’ ability to assist in small business lending or technical assistance encourages vitality in small Nebraska communities, where success on Main Street plays a significant role in the area’s overall economic growth.

DED consistently works with Nebraska’s microenterprise programs, some of which serve Nebraska statewide, designed to provide microbusinesses with funding for loans, training and development programs and technical assistance.

The agency is encouraged by an increase in the number of Nebraska applicants for this fund over the past several years. In 2013 and 2014, BIA awarded a total of $300,000 to one applicant, compared to a $1,500,000 investment in three organizations in 2015 and 2016.

Investment details are listed below:

PROTOTYPE GRANTS

The Nebraska Innovation Fund Prototype Grant encourages product development for Nebraska-based corporations, LLC’s, partnerships, registered limited partnerships, sole proprietorships, business trusts, or additional entities with fewer than 500 employees. Applicants for financial assistance must be involved in non-retail primary industries and add value to Nebraska-based products.

Applicants must be Nebraska-operated businesses that have the ability to provide at least 50% of the grant request as matching funds. Companies investing in the development of products for value-added agriculture require a 25% funding match.

In 2015 and 2016, DED awarded $1,454,070 in funding to 32 companies in Chappell, Kearney, Lincoln, Norfolk, Omaha, Papillion, Roca, Waterloo and York.

Lincoln startup CompanyCam, listed in the column below, received $50,000 in prototype funding to develop smart photos that sync with a contractor's field work. The company's newly-developed app includes a tool that allows users to attach a project file's notes with photos.

In June 2017, the company won the Nebraska-based Inside/Outside Summit, which promotes collaboration and innovation to produce new ideas among startups from across the nation. The company's recent achievement is one step in its efforts to grow, made possible in part from state funding.

ACADEMIC RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT GRANT

The Nebraska Academic Research and Development Grant offers matching competitive grants for businesses that conduct research and development activities collaboratively with a Nebraska college or university. The grant encourages partners' efforts that lead to a product's commercialization or improved marketability, as well as the development of new or improved processes that may provide an additional source of revenue.

Phase 1 R&D funds are capped at $100,000. Businesses successful in reaching Phase 1 milestones are eligible to apply for Phase 2 funding, which is capped at $400,000. Academic R&D grant funding must be matched at 100% of the requested grant amount; projects focused on value-added agriculture require a 25% match of the requested grant amount.

Research and Development activities between Nebraska companies and educational entities are cornerstones of the agency's work in promoting public-private partnerships to spur innovation in development. The companies listed in the Academic R&D grants graph below have shown a consistent commitment to working with leading institutions to develop tools and technology essential to growing their businesses.

Innovative Prosthetics & Orthotics, listed in the first line in the graph below, received $50,000 in Academic R&D funding to work with Creighton University to develop three new 3D-printed prostheses. The Hastings-grown company, with additional locations in Grand Island and Omaha, specializes in the treatment of adult upper and lower extremity prosthetics and orthotics, spinal treatments and pediatric prosthetics and orthotics.

The company initiated a partnership with Creighton's 3D Research and Innovation Library to develop low-cost, medical grade 3D-printed prosthetic devices.

"Nebraska families who need prosthetic assistance are often faced with unforeseen medical challenges that can be difficult to prepare for," said Innovative Prosthetics and Orthotics CEO and President, Rakesh Srivastava. "Sharing knowledge and resources with a well-respected educational institution like Creighton is giving our team the ability to build new, affordable products to help our patients thrive.”

The Academic Research and Development Grant awarded $1,243,129 in funding to 10 applicants in Firth, Hastings, Lincoln, Omaha and Plattsmouth. Specifics are listed in the graph below:

SMALL BUSINESS INNOVATION RESEARCH/SMALL BUSINESS TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER RESEARCH (SBIR/STTR) PROGRAM

The Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) program is a highly competitive program that encourages domestic small businesses to engage in Federal Research/Research and Development (R/R&D) that has the potential for commercialization. This awards-based program incentivizes small businesses to explore their technological potential and profit from developmental commercialization. Qualified small businesses in the nation’s R&D arena have the potential to grow high-tech innovation in Nebraska.

The Small Business Technology Transfer Research (STTR) program expands funding opportunities in federal innovation research and development (R&D). Expansion of public-private sector partnerships are a vital component of this program, which include joint venture opportunities between small businesses and nonprofit research institutions. One unique feature of the STTR program is the requirement for small businesses to form an official collaboration with a research institution for Phase 1 and Phase 2 funding. STTR's most important role is to bridge the gap between the performance of basic science and the commercialization of resulting innovations.

The Nebraska Phase 0 program assists small Nebraska businesses during the federal application process, which encourages companies to leverage funding for federal research in Nebraska. The Nebraska SBIR/STTR Phase 1 and Phase 2 matching programs incentivize innovative Nebraska businesses to apply and develop technologies in our state. By providing matching grants to support research and commercialization in Nebraska, federal research and money are invested into Nebraska.

Applicants for Phase 0 grants may be reimbursed up to $5,000 per project for costs sustained during preparations for a Phase 1 grant application. Phase 1 and Phase 2 grants will match awards of up to $100,000 or 65% of the federal grant. In addition, applicants must be a small, for-profit business that conducts at least 51% of the activities proposed under the federal application in the State of Nebraska.

In 2015 and 2016, the BIA awarded $831,420 in SBIR/STTR grants to 24 Nebraska companies in Hastings, Lincoln, Omaha, Papillion, South Sioux City and Venango.

SBIR recipient, IntelliFarm, listed in the SBIR grants graph below, utilized the program to compete for federal innovation dollars to grow the company's product development operation. IntelliFarm's ability to leverage federal money in Nebraska runs parallel to its efforts to develop potentially-beneficial technologies in our state. In 2015, the Lincoln-based company partnered with the University of Nebraska's Nebraska Innovation Campus to build student-based learning opportunities in computer science and engineering. IntelliFarm develops ag-based products designed to grow efficiency within Nebraska's number one industry. Also noteworthy has been IntelliFarm's ability to attract young, highly-educated employees to continue building the company.

As the number of SBIR/STTR applications in Nebraska continues to grow, business owners and entrepreneurs are increasingly working with DED to build Nebraska's reputation as a contender in this nationally-competitive program. Ongoing technological developments in Nebraska companies encourage cost-effective, streamlined business practices to grow production and increase their ability to compete for highly-skilled Nebraska employees.

Omaha-based company Esculon received a $50,000 Prototype Grant to develop a new medical device to improve outcomes for surgical patients. The company's chest tube drainage system, called Thoraguard, was developed to drain air and fluid from patients undergoing cardiothoracic surgery. Typical chest tubes have a tendency to become occluded, preventing drainage and causing a condition called Retained Blood Complex, which can lead to longer stays, increased medical expenses, or death.

Creation of the company's Thoroaguard prototype, funded by DED, prevents and clears clogs, allowing for the use of a smaller tube. The device includes a chest tube and monitor, which automates post-surgical chest tube management and ensures adequate drainage.

Esculon also received a $97,500 SBIR grant, which is listed below, in 2016. Company leaders say access to state funding is playing a vital role in Esculon's efforts to remain competitive in the nation's evolving medical technology industry.

“Esculon highly values the opportunity to help develop our company's products with Nebraska resources,” said Esculon Co-Founder and President Evan Luxon. “Support for the development of state-of-the-art medical devices clarifies DED's commitment to growing new opportunities for our businesses that, in this case, have the potential to allow Nebraskans to lead longer, safer lives.”

SEED INVESTMENT (COMMERCIALIZATION) PROGRAM

The Seed Investment program provides up to $500,000 in financial assistance to individuals and businesses operating in Nebraska to support proof of concept or development of products, technology transfers, and activities that stimulate innovation-driven economic growth. State seed money may be used by businesses to introduce a new prototype or process in the marketplace. Eligible uses of seed investments may include, but are not limited to:

- Equipment
- Job Creation
- Job Training
- Leasehold Improvements
- Working Capital

Eligible businesses include any Nebraska-based corporation, Limited Liability Company, partnership or registered limited partnership, sole proprietorship, business trust, or other entity with less than 500 employees engaged in non-retail primary industries that are adding value to products and processes in Nebraska. In lieu of a grant, companies receive funding assistance through an investment from DED's non-profit partner, Invest Nebraska. The organization provides assistance to companies via a stand-alone convertible note or as part of a minimum-qualified round of equity financing.

Applicants must prove their commitment to innovation, raising private investment dollars, and producing a technically sound and marketable, successful product. Businesses must also show potential for stimulating innovation-driven economic growth and provide a 100% funding match in the amount of the Seed Investment. Businesses utilizing investments focused on value-added agriculture must provide a 20% funding match.

Western Nebraska-based Blue Prairie Brands processes locally-grown chicory to develop food products such as gluten-free chicory flour, which is processed to replace ingredients made with sugar and starch as a healthier food option for consumers. During the 2015-2016 fiscal year, the company received $500,000 from the Seed Investment Program to develop products in tandem with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's Food Processing Center on the Nebraska Innovation Campus. This investment from the State of Nebraska enabled a successful series of fundraising efforts that brought an additional $6 million in venture capital investment to Blue Prairie Brands and western Nebraska in August 2016.

“Support from DED and Invest Nebraska allowed Blue Prairie Brands to build the early value investors seek by using Nebraska people and institutions,” said Director of Operations Brad Justice. “This specifically allowed us to integrate efforts at the Scottsbluff Extension Office with work at the Food Processing Center in Lincoln. Blue Prairie Brands is an excellent example of how small investments from the state can yield significantly larger private investments. Nebraska’s economic development programs send a strong message to entrepreneurs and investors that the state is willing and able to support new businesses and new opportunities for Nebraskans.”

The Seed Investment Program in Fiscal Year 2015-2016 provided $1,750,000 in six companies based in Lincoln, North Bend, Omaha and Scottsbluff. Additional grant details are listed below:

Early benefits of the Business Innovation Act led to one Lincoln company’s growth in Nebraska’s agricultural sector by utilizing several programs listed above. Precision livestock analysis company, Quantified Ag, supplies feedlot workers with resources to identify sick animals sooner and more accurately.

The company received Prototype and Phase 0 SBIR funding in 2014, and last year, received $100,000 in Academic R&D money to partner with the University of Nebraska to develop and test new technology. The company also earned $150,000 in Seed Investment funding in September 2016.

Company leaders say ongoing assistance from DED and the State of Nebraska has built Quantified Ag’s reputation as a growing investor in Nebraska’s ag sector.

“The Prototype grant came in at just the right time,” said CEO Vishal Singh. “With the funding from DED, product development was able to continue during the time before getting investment, which was really important to keep the company going.”

NEBRASKA OPERATIONAL ASSISTANCE ACT

High-growth companies across Nebraska often rely on continued capital investment to build and sustain their businesses. Establishing a consistent funding source not only encourages sustainability, but also has the potential to attract additional private equity. The Nebraska Operational Assistance Act helps potential high-growth Nebraska businesses establish a foundation for that purpose.

DED selected its non-profit 501(c)(3) partner, Invest Nebraska, to develop the Operational Assistance Act as a public-private venture to assist companies across the state. The organization advises and invests in early-stage businesses and is governed by a 10-member volunteer board of directors with extensive experience in:

- Accounting
- Angel Investing
- Banking
- Early-stage entrepreneurial development
- Investment portfolio management
- Patent Law
- Private equity
- Transaction Law
- University research and commercialization
- Venture capital

Since 2009, Invest Nebraska has contributed more than $11.4 million to start-up businesses in Nebraska in the form of loans, convertible debt and equity. As of December 31, 2016, these businesses received a total of $55.8 million of co-invested capital along with the Invest Nebraska financial assistance. Between 2012 and 2016, the same companies received an additional $71 million in follow-on capital and created 218 direct jobs with a $59,600 average annual salary. During this time, these businesses received 49 confirmed patents and have 119 projects currently in the patent process.

In 2016, Invest Nebraska:

- Engaged 133 entrepreneurs to discuss ideas and/or business opportunities
- Provided operational assistance to 101 businesses interested in raising future private capital assets
- Reviewed 57 business plans
- Provided financial assistance to 21 businesses

Invest Nebraska also maintains an online clearinghouse and access point for information about angel investment opportunities in Nebraska through Gust. This online platform is the world's largest equity funding and collaboration platform, connecting more than 400,000 startups in 190 countries with more than 60,000 investment professionals. Gust is the official collaboration platform for national angel investor federations in 28 countries and continents.

Potential or interested accredited angel investors apply for funding through Invest Nebraska and are invited via email to be members of a "deal room." During this process, interested angels can review material provided by the company, Invest Nebraska, and possible comments about the deal. If the angel requires additional information regarding the company, the potential investor is encouraged to reach out to the company's owner.

Potential funding within the program includes assistance for business planning and structural review, executive recruitment, financial planning, intellectual property development, market analysis, sales and marketing, and valuation modeling and review.

Under the Operational Assistance Act, those utilizing the program may partner with additional service entities to facilitate project effectiveness and form intrastate or industry-specific venture capital networks. In addition, partners may develop a statewide system to facilitate venture capital investing and create a clearinghouse for Nebraska's capital investors.

The act also encourages users to identify potential contributors and provide education about investment opportunities in our state.

CIVIC AND COMMUNITY CENTER FINANCING FUND

Nebraska Revised Statute 13-2701 – 13-2710

The Nebraska Department of Economic Development administers and awards Civic and Community Center Financing Fund (CCCCF) grants to municipalities to encourage and foster a strong quality of life in our communities.

Originally adopted in 1999 as the Local, Civic, Cultural and Convention Center Financing Act, new application criteria with clarified provisions in 2011 updated the program to its current name. In 2013, the Nebraska Legislature amended the act to make recreation centers eligible, and allow funding for planning and technical studies directly related to eligible projects.

Strong statewide participation in the CCCCFF program indicates communities' ongoing efforts to grow Nebraska through the development of civic, community and recreation centers. Buildings listed on the National Register of Historic Places intended for conversion, rehab or reuse are also eligible for funding in this program.

Most Nebraska municipalities are eligible for CCCCFF funding and may apply for a grant in competition with other municipalities. Per statute, the cities of Omaha and Lincoln are not eligible. The City of Ralston, and other municipalities that have received funding from the Sports Arena Facility Financial Assistance Act, are also ineligible to apply for CCCCFF.

Communities may apply for two grants within the program, including:

- Planning Grant
- Capital Construction Grant

A municipality may only receive one CCCCFF grant in each category of assistance (planning and construction) in any five-year period. This often encourages a community to apply for a planning grant, thereby developing a stronger project for a later capital construction grant. To qualify, a municipality must own and operate the facility applicable for renovations or expansions. CCCFF monies may account for no more than 50% for each project's total cost.

In 2016, the State of Nebraska issued an appropriated $2,100,586 in CCCFF funding. Of that amount, $2,065,000 was available as state aid in the 2016 CCCFF Program Year. A total of $2,110,480 went to municipalities, including $35,480 in unused 2015 funds. In addition, $10,000 in funds were de-obligated from a FY15-16 award in which parties mutually agreed to terminate the CCCFF contract.

CCCFF PROJECT CYCLES

The CCCFF program operates on an annual cycle. Applications for the 2016 program year were due on June 15 and awarded on June 30. Original contracts are issued for 24 months from the date of notice of award.

Last year, the agency invited 24 applicants to submit a full application following the pre-application cycle. The pre-application process determines whether a proposed project is eligible under the authorizing statute and Title 90 NAC Rules and Regulations. Population size of an applying municipality and the CCCFF balance annually determines the maximum available grant amount. One community rescinded its application due to a project delay.

Communities across the state requested a total of $4,994,634 throughout the full application phase. Based on the total amount of funds available, DED awarded 13 of the applications at the total requested amount. In addition, one applicant received a partial award. The City of Ord received the remaining funds, amounting for approximately 73.6% of the requested amount.

The CCCFF committee recognizes the importance of providing aid for planning purposes based on past performance of those projects with completed planning studies. All planning projects were awarded, and the top-scoring capital construction projects were awarded until funds were fully depleted. Highest-scoring applicants were awarded first, followed by additional applicants.

The Department plans the timing of award cycles to coincide with anticipated sufficient funds available for the grants and construction season. The CCCFF committee will hold an annual award cycle if the fund balance is sufficient, as well as consider the amount of unpaid funds designated to committed projects.

CCCF AWARDED PROJECTS PLANNING PROJECTS

“Nebraskans are known for having pride in their communities, and funding for this study creates opportunities to serve the specific needs of our residents.”

- Mayor Jim Timmerman, City of Gretna

The Department of Economic Development awarded $84,300 for nine planning projects across Nebraska. The agency awarded projects based on scoring selection criteria listed in Neb. Rev. Statute 13-2707.01, and detailed in Title 90 Rules and Regulations and Application Guidelines. Given the proven value of pre-development planning studies, all eligible planning projects were awarded.

Four cities and four villages will utilize funding for structural planning efforts, several of which include feasibility studies for new or improved central gathering facilities.

- The Village of Dodge and Village of Roseland each received $10,000 for the planning and development of community centers due to inadequate existing facilities. Leadership within both communities continues to serve as a catalyst for ongoing development. A nonprofit organization, the Roseland Community Club, provided matching funds for the project and is currently working with the village on additional fundraising efforts. The village board in Dodge has also committed to matching the $10,000 funding to explore the feasibility of renovating one of two existing structures in the community.
- The Village of Arlington will utilize its $10,000 grant to conduct a feasibility study for a multipurpose community building. The study will explore multiple sites and building concepts within the village to serve as an alternate to Arlington's current community hall, which community leaders consider unfit for safety and functional reasons. The village will provide a $10,000 match from the village board's general fund.
- With its $10,000 funding grant, the City of Gretna will complete a design and planning study for a community center and library. The city, the library foundation, and the Friends of Gretna Public Library organization will each provide matching funds for research and fundraising to create a facility in one location. While the city currently has a children's and general library facility in two locations, a community center has never been established. City leaders say utilizing one space has the potential to connect residents and encourage community interaction under one roof.

“Nebraskans are known for having pride in their communities, and funding for this study creates opportunities to serve the specific needs of our residents,” Mayor Jim Timmerman said. “Whether it’s additional space to promote literacy among our children and youth, offer programming to all of our citizens, or supply a facility to celebrate community events, receiving funding for planning this project is another step toward meeting the growing needs in Gretna.”

Additional funding amounts for community planning grants are listed below:

- The City of Tekamah will utilize funding for the potential renovation of the city's auditorium. Built in 1936, renovation of the facility would include improvements in energy efficiency, ADA accessibility and indoor structural updates to improve functionality. The city will match the agency's $4,300 grant to complete an architectural space analysis plan.

- The City of Fremont has committed up to $40,000 to match its $10,000 agency grant for city auditorium renovations, which currently serves as a hub for private functions and sporting events.
- In the City of Wisner, a local foundation and city board will each provide $5,000 in matching funds to the city's $10,000 CCCFF grant. The grant will assist in the completion of a feasibility study to renovate Wisner's city auditorium, built in 1956.
- The Village of Elwood will rely on local involvement to plan a potential Community Wellness Center. The $10,000 grant will focus on technical studies related to the development of a center, which will elicit participation from both youth and senior citizens for their ideas and input. Initial plans for the center include the development of classroom space for training and distance learning classes to strengthen the area's workforce. The village board and Elwood Schools' Board of Education each committed a $5,000 funding match to assist in planning the center.
- An additional $10,000 grant, awarded to the Village of Table Rock for a community center feasibility study, was terminated at the request of the village. Ownership of the facility changed in 2016, which resulted in an ineligible project at this time. As a result, $10,000 of de-obligated funds was reallocated to the City of Ord through a contracted amendment.

CAPITAL CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS

"We are proud to live in a state where government entities recognize the need for structural development to grow vitality in our communities."

-- Brent Clark, Broken Bow City Administrator

Several Nebraska cities received funding for capital construction projects designed to grow their communities' learning opportunities. A total of $2,026,180 for five capital construction projects will be utilized for projects related to the construction, renovation and development of civic, cultural and convention centers. The agency awarded projects based on scoring selection criteria listed in Neb. Rev. Statute 13-2707, and detailed in Title 90 Rules and Regulations and Application Guidelines. These awards fully expended the available resources in the fund.

The cities of Norfolk and Broken Bow will utilize funding for the renovation and expansion of the communities' public libraries. Plans for Norfolk's library improvements, which will be partially-funded by DED's $750,000 grant, include a new Early Learning Playground, additional workspace for visitors and staff and expanded parking. Together, the city and the Norfolk Library Foundation will provide $2,600,000 in matching funds.

The City of Broken Bow will utilize its $375,000 grant to expand its library by more than 4,000 feet, which will include renovations to the existing space with improved library circulation to allow for a more secure children's area, ADA accessible restrooms, and two additional meeting rooms. Energy-efficient lighting and updated mechanical systems will also be included in the modernization process. The city of Broken Bow's "Love Your Library – Expand Our Future" capital campaign and the Peter Kiewit Foundation will provide a total of $1,623,000 in matching funds for the project.

“Economic success in Broken Bow began through public-private partnerships, and our community is committed to improving and expanding existing public facilities that enrich the lives of our residents,” said City Administrator Brent Clark. “We are proud to live in a state where government entities recognize the need for structural development to grow vitality in our communities.”

Leaders in the City of Schuyler plan to build a new library with a $250,000 grant, which will include a new facility designed to meet ADA-accessibility standards, additional off-street parking and a barrier-free entrance. The city's current public library, located in a remodeled grocery store, did not meet ADA regulations.

Residents in the City of Wakefield welcome the opportunity to provide a central location for public events. The city's $375,000 grant has been designated for construction of a new community center with amenities suitable for both private and public events, including a ballroom with a 500-guest capacity. Additional plans for the center include a commercial kitchen, an executive meeting room and a technology area. Community and state organizations have also committed financial support to the project. The Peter Kiewit Foundation, the Wakefield-based Gardner Foundation and the community's LB840 fund will dedicate $1,500,000 toward the center's construction.

A $276,180 CCCFF grant supports plans in the City of Ord to build a new aquatic center. Slated as a premiere tourist facility in north central Nebraska, design plans include the construction of a zero-depth entry pool, a large slide, modern bathhouses with showers and restrooms, swim meet viewing areas and paved parking. Through local fundraising efforts, the city raised matching funds of $2,252,400 in cooperation with Greater Loup Valley Activities, Inc. As stated in the above Planning Section, $10,000 in de-obligated funds originally awarded to the Village of Table Rock were reallocated to the City of Ord by contract amendment. The newly reallocated funds increased the City of Ord's total CCCFF funding to $286,180.

NON-SELECT CCCFF PROJECTS

In this competitive CCCFF program, the review committee selected projects based on each applicant's potential to create attractions and amenities that could benefit a community's financial and civic vitality. As stated above, each applicant selected by the CCCFF committee was awarded their requested amounts until available funds were depleted. The amount of applications requested in 2016 exceeded the available funds for the award.

Scoring criteria regarding all full applications were based on several factors, including:

- Retention impact
- New resident impact
- Visitor impact
- Project readiness (including local capacity and matching fund resources)

- Project planning

The CCCFF committee values innovation, creativity and progressive local leadership in communities' economic development planning. While the projects listed below scored lower than awarded projects in several areas, the committee encourages 2016 applicants to continue building public-private partnerships while pursuing planning and capital construction projects. Eight out of nine listed applicants that were not selected for funding had success in securing matching funding for their projects.

Below is a brief list of full applications that were not recommended for funding, as well as committed and/or secured matching funding sources:

- The Village of Adams requested $175,584 to renovate the Adams Community Center. The application provided no information about the source or amount of matching funds.
- The City of Beatrice requested $187,500 to complete repairs to the city gymnasium's HVAC system. Project planning scored low in funding criteria; all other application criteria scored below average in comparison to awarded projects. The city provided matching funds for the full requested amount.
- The Village of Bellwood requested $152,250 for expansion and renovation of the community center. The application's scores for new resident and visitor impact were considerably lower than projects chosen for funding. Matching funds from the village, private donations and local committees provided $152,259 in matching funds.
- The City of Crete requested $375,000 to retrofit an existing vacant building into a fully accessible, multi-purpose community center. The application's scores for new resident and retention impact were considerably lower than awarded projects. The sale of a local Nebraska National Guard Armory Building will provide matching funds in the full amount.
- The Village of Eustis requested $320,000 for the renovation of the Eustis Wellness Center. Visitor impact score was among the lowest of all full applicants. Community contributions will provide $321,996 in matching funds for the project.
- The City of Genoa requested $225,000 for the construction of an indoor sports and events center, in conjunction with renovations to the area park's grounds. Commitments from private donations and foundations will provide $226,000 in matching funds. At the time of the application's submittal, the city had secured $92,700.
- The Village of Lawrence requested $375,000 for the construction of a community center. The application's scores for visitor impact, financial support and project readiness were considerably lower than awarded projects. Village leaders pursued in-kind volunteer support, local fundraising efforts and a USDA-REDLG loan application for a total of $602,350 in matching funds. At the time of the application's submittal, the village had secured $49,868 of that amount.

- The City of Ravenna requested $375,000 to build a new library. The city had previously completed a feasibility study to assist in developing the plan. An $813,000 commitment in matching funds was established from a USDA-RD low interest loan, as well as local fundraising. At the time of the application's submittal, the city had secured $167,500.
- The City of South Sioux City requested $600,000 to construct an indoor tennis facility. Overall, the application's scores for each criteria were considerably lower than awarded projects. Retention impact scores were among the lowest of the application pool. Matching funds identified from a private fundraising campaign, which included the contribution of 2.5 acres of land from the city, totaled $612,109. At the time of the application's renewal, the city had secured $305,830.

FYE 2017 CCCFF PROGRAM OUTLINE

“The Department of Economic Development is dedicated to the continuous evaluation of its funding programs in order to grow communities efficiently and effectively. Building ongoing relationships with local economic developers encourages our team to gauge how we can better assist and equip communities to prepare for the application process. Based on this feedback, we are working to streamline our CCCFF program application in 2017.”

- DED Director Courtney Dentlinger

As outlined above, 2016 CCCFF applicants were required to submit preliminary applications to determine eligibility. Since the majority of the program's pre-applicants were invited to submit a full application in most recent program years, the committee has concluded that the pre-application process will no longer be used for applicants. In 2017, applicants will instead be asked to submit a letter of "intent to apply". The letter must be signed by the chief elected-official of the applying municipality and will serve as an official notice of intent to apply for the CCCFF program.

An applicant's letter of intent shall identify the following:

- Amount of funds to be requested
- Identification of the project's local contract
- Nature of the project (planning or capital construction)
- Project details and estimated budget

Submitted applications undergo further internal eligibility threshold review prior to committee review and scoring. This internal review will verify that the project meets the eligibility requirements of the program as defined in Neb. Rev. Statute 13-2701 – 13-2710, and detailed in Title 90 Rules and Regulations and Application Guidelines.

The internal review shall determine eligibility under the following:

- Project location (Neb. Rev. Statute 13-2701; and 13-2707(3) or 13-2707.01(2))
- Project ownership (Neb. Rev. Statute 13-2703; Title 90 Section 001.04)
- Project operation (Title 90 Section 001.04)
- Use of funds (Neb. Rev. Statute 13-2703 – 13-2704.02)
- Local match (Neb. Rev. Statute 13-2707(2) or 13-2707.01(1))
- Request amount does not exceed allowable (Neb. Rev. Statute 13-2705)

NEBRASKA AFFORDABLE HOUSING TRUST FUND NEBRASKA SECTION 81-1201-22

The Department of Economic Development works consistently with Nebraska communities to grow opportunities in business and housing development. Established in 1996, the Nebraska Affordable Housing Trust Fund (NAHTF) provides financial assistance to develop safe and affordable housing across our state.

Nebraska business and community leaders understand that skilled workers want to build their careers in communities with welcoming neighborhoods and safe housing. A growing number of Nebraska communities are building support for new housing developments through innovation, community leadership, and public-private partnerships. Utilizing economic resources at the state and local levels is a key factor to future success within Nebraska's housing market.

Eligible applications for NAHTF grants include local governments, non-profits and public housing authorities. Applicants typically partner with for-profit developers, builders, lenders, human service providers and state or federal agencies. The program provides matching funds for federal resources, and funds projects designed to serve low-income individuals. Availability of affordable housing is imperative in order to retain skilled Nebraskans in our communities and contribute to Nebraskans' overall quality of life. Home ownership has far-reaching impacts on the business climate in communities across the state; new homeowners' transactions with lenders and realtors, home goods stores and lumberyards have indirect benefits on Main Street. In addition, continuous mortgage and rental payments contribute to a region's economic vitality, community pride and encourage the potential for new growth.

In 2016, NAHTF awarded $9,819,735 to 29 housing projects in communities across Nebraska. Of this amount, 10 projects were awarded to help fund projects dedicated to owner-occupied rehab or purchase/rehab/resale projects. Additional grants provided funding for project down payment assistance, new construction with demolition and new rental construction. The fund also provided a total of $300,000 to five non-profit organizations for technical assistance to increase organizational capacity, provide additional programs or increase their service area.

Norfolk- based NeighborWorks Northeast Nebraska, listed in the first column in the graph below, received $60,000 in NAHTF Technical Assistance Funds. Growing relationships with members of DED and access to Nebraska funding have contributed to the program's longevity and success, which was established in 1994.

“The NAHTF’s Technical Assistance funding allowed NeighborWorks to expand our services to the Columbus area, and has been an important overall component for our organization’s growth,” said NeighborWorks Northeast Nebraska’s Roger Nadrchal. “It’s also assisted in the operation of our financial management program that our clients utilize in preparing for home ownership. We appreciate the opportunity to expand our services and programs through technical assistance from NAHTF.”

In addition, NeighborWorks Northeast Nebraska received $600,000 for purchase/rehab/resale projects in 2016. Funding from the local organization and the NAHTF contributed to home-ownership for three generations in one family in northeast Nebraska. The family, which has chosen to remain anonymous, was encouraged by interaction with NeighborWorks and the State of Nebraska to commit to home ownership. Diane and her daughter, Stephanie, both purchased properties that Diane, Stephanie and Stephanie’s son now call home. Both say that great leadership from local and state economic development organizations shows Nebraskans’ overall willingness to assist families across the state.

“Homeownership has allowed our family to share in a sense of community and get to know our neighbors. Having a long-term home has changed our lives. It’s a place to celebrate Christmas and birthdays and spend time with family. Homeownership gives you pride in yourself, your neighborhood and your community.”

The North Platte-based Lincoln County Community Development Corporation (LCCDC), listed in the graph below, received $250,000 in funding for projects dedicated toward owner-occupied rehab and demolition, and an additional $60,000 in technical assistance. In June 2017, community leaders celebrated the completion of phase one of LCCDC’s North Sheridan Estates project, which includes four, three bedroom/two bath rental units. NAHTF provided initial funding for the project, which allowed the organization to purchase the property in 2011. The property will serve households at or below 80% of the area’s median income.

“Assistance from the State of Nebraska encouraged the Lincoln County Community Development Corporation to initiate plans for this project and engage important partners to get the ball rolling,” said LCCDC Executive Director Nancy Striebel. “Members of DED, North Platte Chamber and Development, Goodlife Construction and additional business leaders worked as a team to fund and develop our city’s newest living complex. This project exemplifies the importance in involving both state and local leaders in economic development projects to strengthen Nebraska’s housing market.”

Ongoing plans for housing development projects play a potential role in attracting skilled labor for some of the North Platte area’s largest employers currently in the hiring process, such as Great Plains Health and Union Pacific.

“Whether it’s from business owners, elected officials or employees, the message we hear in communities is consistent: building a strong housing market is essential to growing a strong workforce,” said DED Director Courtney Dentlinger. “In our travels across the state, my team is working with local leaders, who are in turn working with contractors and developers, to fund projects that initiate turnkey housing. NAHTF continues to be an important resource in that process.”

The awarded projects listed below leveraged between $18,854 and $7,273,738 for a total leverage impact of $20,000,075 in 2016. Funded projects were responsible for the creation of 267 units in communities across Nebraska. Total estimated community investments equaled $52,798,457.11. While no match funding was provided in 2016, the 10% match requirement has been corrected for the 2017 Annual Cycle and will be reflected in the 2017 Annual Legislative Report.

CUSTOMIZED JOB TRAINING

Efforts to recruit Nebraskans with specific skilled-labor capabilities and a strong work ethic often begin within a company's internal structure. Retaining talented employees through comprehensive, creative job training programs has the potential to improve processes and increase product output in a company's efforts to grow.

Customized Job Training (CJT) through the Department of Economic Development provides employee training assistance to Nebraska companies that are working to create or retain jobs for Nebraska citizens. Ongoing job training for employees shows a company's investment and commitment to Nebraskans who are already working in our state. The CJT program provides employees with access to updated tools and resources to improve efficiency within Nebraska businesses; doing so provides incentives for members of our state's talented workforce to continue to choose Nebraska to live and work.

Applicable businesses for the CJT program include companies working on projects that result in increased employment in Nebraska, as well as those working to retain skilled labor in an effort to remain competitive with other states. Businesses have one to three years to complete training for new or existing employees. When training is complete, the funded company must maintain its employee baseline listed in the CJT application for two years. This includes all new jobs funded through Customized Job Training.

In 2016, DED approved up to $699,675 to Cargill, a Midwestern-based agricultural company with locations in Nebraska, to build industry and company knowledge for 285 new, full-time employees. The company received up to $2,455 per position for structured training and on-the-job training for new employees at the company's Nebraska locations, which include facilities in Blair and Columbus.

“Providing our employees with access to the latest tools within our company is an important step in retaining talented employees,” said Cargill Protein Employee Experience Sr. Specialist, Kim Schumacher. “Hands-on learning is a vital part of Cargill’s job training process, and DED funding has been a great asset and tremendous in building our workforce.”

Over the past year, the program awarded $6,122,175 to 31 projects in companies created to grow and retain employment. In addition, the CJT program has $5,881,000 in future commitments to various projects in Nebraska-based companies.

The agency's CJT active accounts are listed below:

InternNE PROGRAM

Exposure to hands-on learning, a strong work ethic and Nebraska-based business relationships encourages young people to consider growing their careers in our state. For the past six years, DED's InternNE program has bridged an important link between students and employers. In 2016, the program approved 391 internship positions in 180 Nebraska businesses, which resulted in nearly 250 full-time positions. The program was created to connect talent to companies with geographical and industry diversity in Nebraska and awarded $1,445,000 to companies in a variety of sectors, including, but not limited to:

- Engineering
- Health Care
- Journalism and Mass Communications
- Information Technology
- Manufacturing

Eligible businesses must be a for-profit or non-profit company and employ high school students in the 11th and 12th grades or be enrolled full-time in a college, university, or additional institution of higher education. Government entities, private colleges and universities are ineligible. The internship should employ a student in a professional or technical position that pays Nebraska's minimum wage or higher.

Program grants may reimburse up to 50% of an intern's wages or $5,000 per internship. Pell Grant recipients may receive up to $7,500 per internship. Online grant applications are accepted on a rolling basis and reviewed bi-monthly by the Department of Economic Development.

Flood Communications, LLC, listed in the InternNE chart below, received $25,000 for 10 Broadcast Journalism internship positions at the company's locations in Beatrice, Columbus, Fairbury, Falls City, Nebraska City and Norfolk, as well as a Bilingual Broadcast Journalism Internship position in Omaha. The company's access to qualified students in the State of Nebraska's online application database, InternNE.com, offers an initial connection in growing workforce opportunities.

“Broadcast journalism students know first-hand that gaining knowledge in this field comes from both technological experience, as well as building trust among Nebraskans as storytellers,” said company CEO and President Mike Flood. “Within our business, InternNE has really been about the opportunity to help these students build important relationships both in and outside of the industry, and has given our company a jump-start in finding dynamic and hardworking young people.”

Success within the program continues to build a strong reputation as a workforce option for business owners. Minden-based Royal Engineered Composites has participated in the program since 2013 and received $36,000 in grants to fill eight internship positions in the company's engineering, computer aid design, computer numerical control and supply chain management departments. Over the past four years, Royal has permanently hired four interns for full-time employment. The company has an additional full-time agreement in place with another student, who will complete a second summer internship in 2017.

“We appreciate being part of the process in getting great, young kids involved in manufacturing,” said Royal Engineered Composites President, Dave Arnold. “Our continued participation in this program has helped us connect with talented students at Central Community College, and we are looking at strengthening ties with other Nebraska schools as well.”

SITE AND BUILDING DEVELOPMENT FUND ACT
NEBRASKA REVISED STATUTES 81-12-144, 81-12-145, 81-12-151

As local economic development teams emphasize efforts to grow Nebraska’s workforce, recruiting and retaining skilled labor often work in tandem with a region’s overall industrial readiness. The Site and Building Development Fund (SBDF) is a tool designed to help Nebraska communities and organizations with competitive attraction and expansion projects.

Eligible applicants include local economic development organizations, local governments and Nebraska non-profits. Non-profits must provide IRS verification of a 501(c)(3), 501(c)(4), or 501(c)(6) status and verify a Certificate of Good Standing with Nebraska’s Secretary of State.

Economic development activities that qualify for an SBDF grant include projects designated for building construction or rehabilitation, engineering and design costs, infrastructure development and improvements, land and building acquisition, pre-approved costs essential to develop industry-ready sites and buildings, site preparation, and technical assistance. Applicants must have the ability to demonstrate strategy and identify targeted industries for potential projects, as well as pinpoint potential challenges at a project’s building site.

The Department of Economic Development allocates SBDF grants based on the agency’s projected forecast for the current calendar year. Eligible applicants must provide 100% in matching funds equal to the amount committed by the SBDF program.

In 2016, the fund awarded $4,500,000 to seven economic development organizations in Nebraska to benefit businesses in Grand Island, Lincoln, Norfolk, Omaha, Sarpy County, South Sioux City and West Point.

Murdock-based Oxbow Animal Health, listed in the SBDF graph below, develops and markets fortified food and supplements dedicated to small animal nutrition in 35 countries. In 2017, the company will celebrate the grand opening of its 247,000 square foot business campus in southwest Omaha. Oxbow’s executive team worked with DED to secure a $200,000 Site and Building Development Fund Grant for the project, as well as $64,000 in Customized Job Training.

“Over the past 17 years, our company has grown from 20 to 140 employees,” said Oxbow Animal Health Founder and President, John Miller. “Industry partnerships and state resources have both contributed to Oxbow’s growing workforce and global presence. SBDF has enabled our company to move closer to a larger labor pool for additional access to skilled workers.”

The agency evaluates both industry and geographical diversity during the SBDF grant selection process. In March 2016, the City of Norfolk, also listed in the SBDF graph below, received $1,400,000 to assist with costs to install a natural gas line that was critical for business recruitment and expansion.

“A region’s capacity to grow relies heavily on having the right infrastructure, and funding for this project has played a crucial role in positioning our city for future industrial development,” Norfolk Mayor Josh Moenning said. “DED’s SBDF grant has helped provide our community with a key tool in attracting new and growing businesses.”

Green Plains Inc. is a diversified commodity-processing business that serves a worldwide market. Through a partnership with the Omaha Development Council, DED provided $250,000 of SBDF funding to assist with the construction of a new 72,000 square foot headquarter facility located in Omaha’s Aksarben Village. Green Plains completed their move to the new building in December 2016, and has approximately 185 employees at the facility.

Success within the SBDF program exemplifies regions’ long-term economic development goals. In 2015, DED awarded $500,000 in program funding to Southeast Nebraska Development, Inc., for an expansion project at Endicott Clay Products. The organization utilized funding to construct a 90,000 square foot building expansion. The company also purchased equipment as part of the project.
