LB931 amends 60-6,298 to also provide for the issuance of a permit to exceed certain weight limits for vehicles when transporting seasonally harvested products or grain from farm storage to market or factory in instances when failure to move such grain or products in abundant quantities would cause an economic loss to the person or persons whose grain or products are being transported or when failure to move such grain or products in as large quantities as possible would not be in the best interests of the national defense or general welfare. The fee for this permit is $25 for a 30 day permit. The number of permits that would be issued pursuant to this provision is unknown due to the criteria that must be met being related to a future emergent need.

Also amended by LB931 is 60-6,301; where it is provided that a truck with only a single rear axle, when transporting seasonally harvested products or grain from farm storage to market or factory, may exceed maximum load limitations if certain criteria are met.

As the number of permits that would be issued under the change at 60-6,298 is unknown and there not being a fee associated with the provisions of 60-6,301, there would not appear to be a fiscal impact which is determinable.

The Department of Motor Vehicles, Nebraska State Patrol, and Department of Transportation provide fiscal notes (see attached) indicating no fiscal impact. Outside of the fee discussed above, there is no reason to disagree.
