KELLY: Good morning. Welcome to the George W. Norris Legislative Chamber for the second day of the One Hundred Ninth Legislature, First Session. Our chaplain today is Father Augustine Reimers from Blessed Sacrament in Lincoln, Nebraska. Please rise.

AUGUSTINE REIMERS: Let us pray. Almighty God, we praise you for your glory and majesty. We thank you for your goodness, which you revealed to us through the abundance of your gifts that you share with us: the gift of our lives, our state, our great country, and of freedom. Bless and protect our soldiers and their families who offer their lives to defend these precious gifts. Lord, we ask today that you would fill this room with your presence. Send your spirit upon your people gathered here. Fill us with a spirit of wisdom and understanding, a spirit of counsel and strength, a spirit of knowledge, and of fear of the Lord. Open our hearts that we may have a deep concern for all, especially the most vulnerable, enlighten our minds so that we may serve the common good in truth. Give us your grace so that we might glorify you and be servants of our fellow man in all that we do today. We make this prayer in your most holy name. Amen.

Journal and the 2024 Interim Study Disposition Report from all standing committees except for the Judiciary Committee. That's all I have this time, Mr. President.

KELLY: Thank you. Speaker Arch, you're recognized for an announcement.

ARCH: Thank you, Mr. President. Colleagues, I have prepared a memo which the pages will be handing out here shortly, and we will also be emailing to your offices. I would encourage you to make sure and your staff that are listening right now, make sure that they use this memo to populate your calendar. Because there's, there's some, there's some changes in-- I should say there's some variety in the first couple of weeks here when we start and some of the other meetings that will, that will be held. So it'll be important to get that onto your calendar. So the memo outlines our start times for the, for the session for the next couple of weeks. And again, please, please read that carefully. There will be some meetings for standing committee chairs and freshman senators as well as staff members for some training, that type of thing. So be sure again, pay very close attention. This one, in particular, be sure and put it on your calendar. Next Monday, January 13 at 10:30, there is going to be staff training. Excuse me, there's going to be senator training. It is our required sexual harassment training that will take place that Monday morning, all required to attend and, and, and complete that course. So please make sure that you have availability at that time. And so in order to accommodate that and other staff meetings in the morning, we're going to be convening at 1:00 on the 13th. Some of the key dates, public hearings will begin on Wednesday, January 22 and conclude on Friday, March 28. And full-day floor debate will begin then immediately after that when the committees are finished on March 31. Governor Pillen's State of the State address will be January 15. Chief Justice Funke's State of the Judiciary will be January 28. Priority bill deadlines are by adjournment on March 13 to submit to me a Speaker priority bill request later and I'll announce my 25 designations on March 17. Priority bill deadline for committee and senator designations, March 14 prior to adjournment and until all-day floor debate begins, we'll be starting the first day of the work week at 10:00 unless otherwise announced and the other days of the week will be at 9:00 as, as we have customarily done. Finally, I would ask each senator to keep their session-day evenings open beginning April 22 throughout the remainder of the session. Don't know if we'll use all those or, or how we'll do that, but keep-- just keep those open so that they're available in case we need to run late on some of those evenings. So if you have questions, please feel free to contact me or Laurie in my office. One other thing which is often asked and like, what do we do about weather? For those of you who are freshmen here, this is your first year, typically what happens is obviously, you know, we know in advance there's a storm coming or something, we will-- we'll monitor that. We'll let, we'll let the body know what we're going to do. A lot of times what we'll do is we'll-- we will have a check-in day and we won't have the-- we won't have all of, of that day's activities, but we use it as a check-in day. We need to have 25 here. But we can, we can cross that bridge when we get to it and maybe we won't have any of those days this year and that would be OK too. So with that, thank you, Mr. President.

KELLY: Thank you, Speaker Arch. Senator Lippincott, you are recognized for a message and announcement.

LIPPINCOTT: As chair of the Rules Committee, I wanted to share with you the process that we'll be following with respect to the adoption of permanent rules for this biennium, the 2025-2026 biennium. As with the practice last year, all proposed rule changes need to be drafted by the Clerk. Similar to the process requiring all legislation to be drafted by the Bill Drafters' Office, it's my understanding that several members have already made request to Clerk Metzler for proposed rule changes. And if you would like to introduce a proposed rule change, please contact the Clerk to request a rules draft. The deadline to request a rules draft is 1 p.m. today, Thursday, January the 9th to be guaranteed a draft for the introduction on Friday this week. The deadline for introduction of a proposed rule change for consideration by the Rules Committee next week will be prior to adjournment on Friday, this coming Friday, January the 10th. For consideration of a proposed rule change, the proposal needs to be turned into the Clerk to allow it to be printed in the Journal. It's my intention to hold the Rules Committee public hearing on Thursday, 1 week from today, January the 16th, at 1:30 in the afternoon, room yet to be determined. Given the requirement in our rules for public notice prior to Rules Committee holding a public hearing, next week's public hearing will be held only on rules changes introduced prior to adjournment on Friday. Thank you, sir.
