Any Fiscal Notes received from state agencies and political subdivisions are attached following the Legislative Fiscal Analyst Estimate.

Beginning in the first session of the One Hundred Eighth Legislature, the office of Legislative Research shall prepare and provide racial impact statements for legislative bills as designated by the Executive Board of the Legislative Council

Concur with the estimate of the Legislative Council. The cost of this bill would depend on the number of bills the Executive Board decides to designate, the complexity and time frame within which the analysis has to be conducted, and any costs associated in obtaining assistance by a subject matter expert. All of these are unknown at this time.

Explanation of Estimate:

Beginning in the first session of the One Hundred Eighth Legislature (2023), the office of Legislative Research will begin providing racial impact statements for designated bills or resolutions as determined by the Executive Board of the Legislative Council.

A racial impact statement summarizes the estimated impact of a bill on racial minority populations in the state and the estimated impact of the bill on racial disparities in the state. It may include any relevant research on the historical racial impact of similar bills enacted previously and shall reflect any data or methods used to measure such racial impact.

The office of Legislative Research may request the cooperation of any state agency, political subdivision, accredited academic institution, or subject matter expert in preparation of a racial impact statement or the collection of any data or information necessary to prepare a racial impact statement.

At this time, it is unknown how many bills will require the preparation of a racial impact statement. It could be a few, or many. Therefore, it is unknown if additional staff will be required in order to prepare thorough and accurate statements. It is also unknown at this time if there will be costs associated with obtaining assistance by a subject matter expert to assist in the preparation of a statement.
