LB 132 is the Automatic Renewal Limitation Act.

The purpose of the Act is to end the ongoing charging of consumer credit or debit cards or third-party payment accounts without the consumer’s explicit consent for ongoing shipments of a product or ongoing deliveries of a service.

Section 3 provides definitions for the Act.

Section 4 makes it unlawful for any business that makes an automatic renewal offer or continuous service offer to a consumer to:

- Fail to present the automatic renewal offer terms or continuous service offer terms in a clear and conspicuous manner before the subscription or purchasing agreement is fulfilled;
- Charge the consumer’s credit or debit card, or the consumer’s account with a third party, for an automatic renewal or continuous service without first obtaining the consumer’s affirmative consent to continue the service that is made at a promotional or discounted price for a limited period of time;
- Fail to provide an acknowledgement that includes the automatic renewal offer terms or continuous service offer terms, cancellation policy, and information regarding how to cancel in a manner that is capable of being retained by the consumer; or
- Fail to provide a consumer with a notice that clearly and conspicuously states certain specified information

Section 6 provides for civil penalties for violations of the Automatic Renewal Limitation Act.

Section 7 provides for certain exemptions from the Act.

No fiscal impact.
