

Provide a comparison of whether and how other states regulate the occupation:

See explanation. All other states and US territories have a similar producer licensing structure as Nebraska.

All but three of these acts which give rise to a license requirement from the Department of Insurance are based on model acts developed by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC). The model acts from the NAIC are adopted by most all of the states.